Religious Riots in India 1911 Estimates Big Mine Disaster in South

Forty-Five Miners Entombed in Explosion at Bellevue

Expected Most of These Men Are Killed Either by Explosion or Poisonous Gas—Crash of Rock Shuts Off Airlines—Terrible Fate Awaits Those Who Remain Alive in Mine.

Frank, Alta. Dec. 10.—Shortly after seven o'clock last night a terrible explosion occurred in the Western Canada Collieries mine at Bellevue in the Crow's Nest Pass, forty-five men being entombed. At midnight seven bodies and thirteen badly injured men had been removed from the mine, of whom several will die.

News of the disaster spread quickly and within a few minutes of the explosion, a rescue party had been organized and a desperate effort to save the lives of the entrapped miners commenced.

At the pit-mouth wives and relatives of the entombed men gathered and tragic and pitiable scenes were witnessed as they waited for the breadwinners who were imprisoned in the mine. There is very little hope for those entombed. The mine, which is one of the largest producers of coal in Canada, is worked day and night, but yesterday afternoon's shift was smaller than usual. When the explosion occurred all escape was shut off, the explosion having caused a heavy fall of rock and coal and it is feared has also cut off air lines.

The explosion is attributed to coal damp and it is feared that the poisonous aftermath will have brought speedy death to those not killed by the explosion. The men in the mine are all foreigners, mostly Italians or Slavs.

Doctors and medical and relief appliances were rushed from several points.

Will Aid Act.

Disasters was the terrible accident in the mines of the Canada Western company at Bellevue last night, in which 47 miners were entombed, and the explosion of a fire lamp it has come, like many another such disaster, at an opportune time, to bring the attention of the legislators of the land to the conditions under which some of the miners have to work.

The legislature of Alberta had only commenced yesterday the consideration of Class A, "Provisions for Miners." The disaster of last night will have a big influence in securing the passage of the bill, which the house, although it has been turned down for two sessions.

Mr. O'Brien had scarcely concluded his speech in support of the bill yesterday afternoon in the house, when he was handed a telegram telling him the miners at Bellevue were quitting work because of the gases in the mine and the danger of asphyxiation.

Following this wire, news came after supper while the house was still in session that the terrible disaster, which had been impending, had occurred.

$25,000 APARTMENTS.

At the office of the building inspector yesterday afternoon R. W. Lines, architect, took out a permit for a $25,000 apartment house which will be erected at the corner of Ninth and Jasper next year.

NO LONGER HOURS FOR BLUE TICKETS

L. R. Knight, secretary of the building trades council, who wrote the commissioners last week asking that the hours during which workmen's tickets could be used, be extended, has been advised that his petition will not be granted. The commissioners give as their reasons for filing the application that the workmen receive for more liberal treatment in this than in eastern cities. They also point out that as the street railway department is losing money an application of this nature comes at an inopportune time.

PLANS, LONG LOST, ARE FOUND AGAIN

Premier in Making Announcement, Points Out Find Makes No Difference

The long lost, much missed plan of the first section of the A. & G. W. Railway, which were laid upon the table of the legislature last session during the Waterways discussion, and which suddenly and mysteriously disappeared following the session, and could not be found when wanted on the A. & G. W. investigation have been resurrected.

Dragged from their "somewhere" resting place in a dusty corner of the speaker's cupboard, the plans were found by the speaker, Mr. J. R. Cowell, and his assistants, who had been looking for them since they mysteriously disappeared. The plans were found in the speaker's cupboard, and were found by the speaker, Mr. J. R. ### NO MENTION OF RAILWAY IN ESTIMATES FOR 1911

Proposal is to Use Entire $7,400,000 of Bond Money to Pay Liabilities and Build Public Works, Leaving Surplus of Over One Million Next Year.

The full revelation of Premier Sifton's policy as to the disposal of the $7,400,000 A. & G. W. bond money, which is to be used to pay the liabilities of the A. & G. W. Railway, is given in the estimates covering expenditures for 1910 and 1911, which he introduced in the house yesterday.

The estimates make provision for the expenditure of the bond money for the payment of all liabilities against the railway, and to meet the cost of the railway project, for the next year. The estimates make provision for the expenditure of the bond money for the payment of all liabilities against the railway, and to meet the cost of the railway project, for the next year.

According to the provisions in the estimates, the entire liability of $7,400,000 will be met by the province existing on December 31st of this year, and combined with the current estimated revenue of 1911, to cover the estimated expenditures of 1911, both current and capital, and still leave a surplus in the hands of the province of $1,262,283.71. That is, that amount of the Waterways bond money will be left over when all requirements are met for both years. A total of $4,000,000 has been taken to meet the liabilities of the province.

It is not by any means certain that the Waterways money will be used for the purpose intended, and in view of the fact that the banks may eventually refuse to turn over the money, the premier yesterday introduced a bill to provide for the raising of money upon the credit of the province, to meet the requirements of the Waterways project, possibly the full amount of $7,400,000, possibly less, possibly more, to be carried by the province until such time as the province secures the A. & G. W. money.

It is still carrying the A. & G. W. bonds, there will be floated bonds to the extent of $7,400,000, and the province will increase the bonded liability of the province to something close to $17,000,000.

According to the estimates, a total of $1,262,283.71 of the bond money will be left over when all requirements are met for both years. A total of $4,000,000 has been taken to meet the liabilities of the province.

BIG RIOTS IN INDIA

Hindus and Mohamedans Fight Over Slaying of Cows—Troops Called Out

Calcutta, Dec. 10.—Serious fighting occurred between rival religious factions which began last night, was continued today. Several constables were killed and many injured. Troops were finally called out and a maximum train of the fighters, but the fanatics were not dismayed and were only routed after several charges of troops. However, did not fire. The trouble began when Hindus protested against the approaching Mohamedan festival to which it is customary to sacrifice cows, animals sacred to the Hindus.

COUNTRY CLUB FORMED FOR EDMONTON PEOPLE

The work of organizing an Edmonton Country club has already been completed and application will be made to the legislature shortly for incorporation. The men behind the scheme have secured a tract of land, comprising 407 acres, one and one half miles south west of Laurier Park, on the banks of the Saskatchewan and there it is proposed to erect a modern club house with all the necessary appendages. The site at which the club is to be located is a beautiful one and the club will make it a permanent home for sports of all kinds.

MICHENER AND R. B. DEPUTY SPEAKERS

Speaker Fisher Was Away Yesterday and Opposition Members Had Taste of Authority

For the first time in the history of the Alberta legislature, a member of the opposition was in the deputy-speaker's chair at the legislature last night. It was an unusual occurrence, a couple of hours last night during committee of the whole when Mr. J. A. Simpson, the opposition member, held down the deputy-speaker's chair. First it was Jacobin McKenzie, then it was Mr. J. A. Simpson, who was acting as speaker yesterday during Speaker Fisher's absence. When the house moved into committee of the whole, Mr. Simpson, not liking to spend partially upon coming upon one member, moved to the various issues which came up.

SON KILLS FATHER; THEN CUTS THROAT

Horrible Double Tragedy in Quebec Village, Where Youth Kills Father With Hammer

Shelbrooke, Dec. 10.—Jas. Houston, senior, of Danville, was attacked by his son Jas. Houston, Jr., with a hammer yesterday and killed. It seems that the two men were working together in a cellar when the blow was struck. After committing the terrible deed the murderer fled to his own home, where he hid. He was later captured and is now in custody of the police.

(Canadian Associated Press.)
London, Dec. 10.—The Unionists are shaking hands with themselves over the results of the elections in Scotland, for although no radical seats have been won, no Unionist seats have been lost to date, while radical majorities of last January have been cut down, and a minority of the Liberal and Labour organizations confidently anticipated recapturing some of the county seats lost in January and until yesterday's successes were annulled.

nounced today were greatly chagrined at their failure. With Liberal and Labour members in a majority of the large boroughs, the Unionists are hoping that their predominance will be maintained and with a fair amount of good conduct they are looking forward to a clear majority of the whole representation of England and Wales combined.

Today's results already show three Liberal gains.
Business men, both Tories and Liberals, are kicking against the long battle. They complain that there are too many rounds to the electoral fight, and that a decision might be arrived at in one or at most two rounds. This election will probably be the last of the kind, and the Unionists are hoping that their predominance will be maintained and with a fair amount of good conduct they are looking forward to a clear majority of the whole representation of England and Wales combined.

HOLD HUGE MEET IN TENANTS' AID

Many Workmen and Others Will Support Tenants' Franchise Amendment

A huge meeting in which will be demonstrated the strength of feeling that exists in support of the granting of the tenant's franchise, and to which all the aldermanic candidates, and Mayor-elect Armstrong have been invited, will be held tonight in the Mechanics' hall, under the auspices of the Trades and Labor council.

This meeting is to pass a resolution in favor of the tenant's franchise, and on Tuesday evening a large body of workmen and others will go to the city council to protest against the tenant's franchise clause introduced in the Edmonton bill by Hon. C. W. Ross, eliminated by the council.

PASS HEALTH ACT.

Legislature in Early Morning Session Puts Through Important Bill.

The legislature sat in committee of the whole all night, and passed the public health act, which is one of the most important of the session.

The act provides new health regulations for the province, and provides for the appointment of a health board which shall consist of the medical health officer, the provincial sanitary engineer, and two lay members.

These shall form a permanent board to take the place of the council that has been in existence for the past few years. Two more members of the council will be appointed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

"EASY TO FIRE ME NOW; NOT WITH RECALL"

—Bouillon

Referring to the fact that he has been subjected to a campaign of vilification in the municipal campaign Commission Bulletin this morning stated to a Capital representative that he would be loath to remove him from office under the present plan of administration, in fact much easier than under the recall system. The commissioner contends that all that would have to be proven now would be that the man in question is unfit to perform his duties and he invites those who have been talking to come forward and make these charges, if they have any, he desires that he has any friends on the council board to support him.

Commissioner Bouillon takes the stand that it is just a easy to remove him if it is for the common good to remove a head of a department.

OUTLINES PLANS FOR CITY'S PARKS

G. H. May First Candidate to Come Forward With Definite Scheme

Though it has been the custom of municipal candidates in past years to advocate the improvement of parks in different ways, the lay it can be safely said that G. H. May is the first to come forward with a definite scheme of what will later be known as Edmonton's park system.

Four years ago Mr. May, accompanied by his partner, came to the city and established a photo engraving plant, one of the first in the city. He is now a resident in Edmonton, and is of the opinion that an elective commission will mean the laying it down in Des Moines is the best system for a governing city such as this.

MACDONALD MAKES APPEAL FOR RECALL

Ratepayers' Meeting Held in Norwood Yesterday Evening
—Many Candidates There

At the ratepayers' meeting, held in the I. O. O. F. hall last evening, John C. MacDonald made a strong appeal for the adoption of the recall system and the election of commissioners by the voters of the city.

Each candidate was asked whether they would be willing to grant the initiative, referendum, and extension of time if it was asked for, or would refer it to the ratepayers. With the exception of one, McKinley who refused to pledge himself until he knew the fact in the case, each speaker contended that the question was of a magnitude sufficient to warrant its being referred to the people.

J. C. MacDonald again contended that all civic work should be done by day labor. The water works department had saved money during the past year by doing its own work and if the system was a success in this department there was no reason why it should not prove equally successful in all departments.

F. Humblestone considered that the taxes were higher than they should be. He was in favor of economy but wanted all civic work carried out in an efficient manner.

Ald. McKinley said that he was not in favor of placing the market on First street but if the people desired it he would endorse the proposal. In reply to a question the speaker stated he could not give the details of the recommendations the commissioners had when they hired Commissioner Bouillon but he knew that Mr. Bouillon had come highly recommended.

Ald. Laundy appealed to the electors on his record as a councillor during the past two years. Asked as to why the slaughter house in Norwood had not been removed the speaker averred that he was under the impression it had been removed long ago.

C. H. May announced that he was in favor of the recall system being adopted. He also said that considerable length on the need of better sanitation methods and the development of city parks.

A. E. Potter went on record as favoring the union of Edmonton and Strathcona. He was unalterably opposed to a Sunday street car service. He thought there should be greater economy in the management of civic utilities. If at any time 25 per cent of the ratepayers asked him to retire he would be glad to do so.

C. Lionel Gibbs devoted practically all his time to Commissioner Bouillon, contending that the gentleman's record before coming to the city consisted of dabbling in politics. What was needed in this city was an expert utility man and not a politician.

Charles Gowan, the Riverdale league candidate, mapped out his policy in a short speech, declaring among other things that more responsibility should be placed on the different departments instead of with the commissioners.

The closing meeting of the campaign will be held in the Supreme school hall this evening commencing at 8 o'clock.

SHOULD HE BE CALLED ANANIAS CUSHING?

The whirligig of time brings its revenge and sometimes it does not take long to turn the trick.

Ten short months ago when Hon. W. H. Cushing occupied a high place in the esteem of a large majority of the people of this Province. As Minister of Public Works his name was one to conjure with, and his personal record was deemed impeccable.

But, in a moment of weakness, he was tempted as Adam of old, and a desire for increased knowledge and an improved condition of things led him to the study of the Bible. He was tempted and he did it, but Cushing was tempted by an inordinate ambition such as betrayed Lucifer of old and, like that faithless one, as depicted in Milton's "Paradise Lost," fell to rise no more.

When the Legislature met on the 10th of February last, Cushing's plans for action had been made and every pipe was laid. Rooms had been secured at the King Edward Hotel where the rural members could be gathered in and their "conscience" appealed to—where no conscience was involved other methods were adopted—and Cushing had a great story for the man who had "brought his conscience along."

For years Cushing had posed as one of the "salt of the earth" and, in and around Calgary and throughout the Southern tier of districts his name and praise was in the mouth of many. He was powerful in prayer and strong in exhortation; he gave to the poor and for the upkeep of Israel as he had prospered; and when it came to the question of foreign missions his voice and his means were contributed toward the inbringing of the nations. So that his good offices should be noised abroad he did not hesitate to endow the Salvation Army with a band of brass instruments supplemented with requisite snare and bass drums and brass instruments.

The Provincial elections had been held nearly eleven months previous and the Liberal party had been returned to power by a vote of 37 to 44 at a House of 41 members. This was Cushing's chance and during the time that intervened between election day and the 10th of February, when the House met to transact business, his time was fully occupied in getting ready for the carrying out of his conspiracy at Edmonton against his colleagues in office. Some four years before the last election Cushing had been entrusted with the charge of the largest spending department in the government of Alberta and the patronage of that department enabled him to loom large in the eyes of the new members who had been elected. As the formation of the House had been increased from 25 to 41 members a goodly number of the newly elected Legislators were men who were new to the situation and comparatively unacquainted with the members of the Government—save and except that eminent statesman the then Minister of Public Works who had been sowing the seed during the intervening months.

And what was the seed that this truly good and rigidly righteous man had been sowing? And what was the gospel that was to be preached in Room 55 of the King Edward Hotel, Edmonton? Simply that he was the only upright man in the Government; that for years he had been associated with idiots and crooks who had been unable to steer the ship of state on an even keel and whose railway policy—of which he had been kept in absolute ignorance—was stranding the vessel upon the rocks and shoals of financial disaster. Only one man could save Alberta from the fate that stared her in the face and he was that great and good man W. H. Cushing—an Israelite in whom there was no guile.

Cushing promised his following that if he were granted support sufficient to elect a committee or a royal commission to investigate the conditions that existed, he would prove that one if not more of his colleagues and others in the House were beneficiaries in the A. & G. W. Railway and had been bought with a price, to the detriment of the best interests of the Province. The overturning of the Sons of Belial who, he contended, had so discredited Alberta would mean a new deal in the political game and when he Premier, as he would inevitably follow, a number of the newly-elected members would be chosen to fill cabinet positions. So far did his craze on this point go that he actually announced his prospective cabinet and it was published in the Calgary Albertan, much to the disgust of certain members who were left outside of the charmed circle.

No man ever was so anxious to occupy first place in a cabinet since the days of that other political enthusiast, the late Louis Riel. He had a meeting of dissident members called at Red Deer, which passed a resolution requesting the Lieutenant-Governor to call him in to lead the House, and, not satisfied with that, he had a meeting of the Calgary Liberal Executive called at the office of the President, which was induced to pass a resolution to His Honor the Lieutenant Governor to at once give him the keys of the office. It is said that Cushing carried this resolution to the Lieutenant Governor personally and, when informed that the procedure was not in conformity with political precedent and could not be entertained, he went outside, like Peter of old when the rooster had crowed three times, and wept bitterly. Peter afterwards repented, but up to date there is no sign in the sky of Cushing doing so.

But notwithstanding these misplays he certainly had a gay and festive time during the early weeks of the February Session. If falsehoods had been out, Cushing certainly would have won; but, as the days passed and it became apparent that he could not deliver the goods, his chance of becoming Premier vanished into thin air. This did not hinder him from reiterating his falsehoods and innuendoes against the integrity of his former colleagues and, when a commission of investigation was granted, he was loud in his boasts of the deplorable schemes of corruption which he would lay bare.

After the commission was appointed and the proceedings had dragged their weary way for weeks and weeks and weeks, Cushing was put in the witness box to make the disclosures which would drive from public life the men who had been his colleagues during the past five years. And what did he disclose? Merely that his previous statements were false in every particular and that he was in a position to qualify for the Ananias Club, even though it might interfere with the record of a supposedly blameless life which he had borne previous to that time. This is the clean bill of health of his colleagues which he swore to before the royal commission, which is quoted on page 54 of Cushing's examination by Mr. Johnson, of counsel for the Commission:

Q.—Have you any information to give as to whether any member of the Government has or ever had any interest in the Company? A.—No.

Q.—None at all? A.—No.

Q.—And you never received any money or any promise of any reward from any person connected with the A. & G. W. Railway? A.—No, I never was approached.

Q.—Do you know of anybody who has received any promise or has any expectation of receiving any reward or compensation? A.—No.

Q.—Were you on intimate relations with Mr. Clarke? A.—No. That evidence speaks for itself and proves conclusively that all of Cushing's previous statements against his colleagues were false from end to end, and must brand him indelibly with the Ananias mark for all time. What do the members of the House who were galled by his statements in February last now think of he honor and probity of this latter edition of Titus Oates who would wear false witness against more honest men than himself? What does Premier Sifton think of this wretched conspirator by whose machinations this Province was thrown into a political ferment during the past year?

But the holding of the investigation brought to light that there was a man in the Legislature, who had held a trusted position in the late Government, who had been guilty of what might be looked upon as questionable practice while occupying high position at the hands of the people of Alberta, and that man was none other than W. H. Cushing who had been on the rampage for months looking for political crooks.

Cushing is now in the position of the tenderfoot who came West to hunt big game and wanted to be shown the best district for grizzlies. He was told the direction to take, but was varied from the danger involved in the sport. Nothing daunted he started on his quest and went on his way, whistling. After two or three days, when he failed to return, a search party was formed which presently discovered a well-picked skeleton and the gun and other paraphernalia of the tenderfoot. The bones were duly interred and over the grave the tombstone bore the legend:

"He whistled for grizzlies
And the grizzlies came!"

gram he had just received from the mines of the Canadian West company at Taber, telling him that the miners had quit work because of alleged undermining conditions in the mines, Chas.
O'Brien, moving the second reading of his bill to provide greater protection for underground miners, brought it on to the attention of the legislature yesterday afternoon, conditions which he said were dangerous to miners and a violation of the law.
Mr. O'Brien has had his bill before the legislature for two sessions. It provides for a system of signals in underground places, for manholes, for separate travelling planes for cars and cars, and other amendments which are calculated to protect the miners. The bill was given a second reading yesterday, following Mr. O'Brien's speech in which he drew a picture of the lives of miners in some of the larger mines in the province, and of the conditions under which they were working. The bill will go to the legal committee on Monday.The telegram which Mr. O'Brien to-dramatically produced at the psychological moment in his speech yesterday was handed to him by a boy a few moments after he arose to speak.
It is as follows:
Mine workers employed at Canadian West Collieries, Taber, Alta., have taken vacation on account of disastrous condition of mine, men being brought out overcome with powder smoke. Coal mines regulation Act being openly violated by

POWER HOUSE REPORT

According to the report of the power house superintendent that plant is now being operated at almost its full capacity. Should one of the two units become disabled permanently or only temporarily the city would be short just that much power and the plant would be unable to meet requirements had upon it until new machinery could be installed. As a remedy, superintendent McNaughton recommends that additional units aggregating 2000 h. p. be installed as soon as possible.

When the gas producer plant is again in operation some 675 k.w. additional will be available but even that amount is not sufficient margin should a portion of the plant be disabled.

The superintendent also recommends that a 500 h.p. boiler for which the foundation is already installed, be purchased for the plant to provide against any possibility of a water shortage should the present equipment break down. He also advises that a new pump, with a capacity of 600,000 gallons be purchased, such a plant to be held as a reserve unit.

During the year 288,270 k.w. hours of alternating current was generated at an average cost of 4 cents per k.w. hour.

During the same period 1,736,000 k.w. hours of direct current was generated at a cost of 27 cents per k.w. hour.

793,500,000 gallons of water was delivered to city mains at a cost of $21.88 per million gallons.

Revenue from the plant showed an increase of 49 per cent in spite of the fact that the city was compelled to pay fifteen per cent more for its coal owing to strikes.

The report was laid on the table and will be considered by the commissioners at some later date.

The opening of the new Presbyterian church at St. Albert, of which Rev. H. T. Hunt has charge, will take place next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Dr. McQueen will be the preacher. There will also be a concert and social on Monday evening.

The new St. Andrew's church will be opened tomorrow. Services of special interest will be held. The pastor will be assisted by Mr. Herbert Booth, the youngest son of General Booth, who reached the city this morning. Special music will be rendered by the choir. At 3 p.m. a mass meeting will be held for Sabbath school scholars and parents and friends, at which Mr. Booth will give a talk on "Toys and their teaching," illustrated by objects and models.

In the police court yesterday Mike Caparneck and Pete Marienduck were fined ten dollars and costs each or thirty days imprisonment at Fort Saskatchewan for assaulting a man named Chisholm and friends, at which Mr. Booth will give a talk on "Toys and their teaching," illustrated by objects and models.

Speaking to a Capital representative this morning, Dr. Whitelaw, chief medical health officer, expressed the opinion that every dairyman who supplies milk to the city should be compelled to show a certificate that his cows had been given the tubercular test at least once during the year.

"This can only be asked in fairness to the public," said the health officer, "and if there should be any dairymen who objects, or refuses to comply with the regulations, he should not be allowed to sell milk in the city."

Dr. Whitelaw pointed out that the dairy problem is one of the most important and one of the hardest with which his department has to deal, but that every precaution should be taken to protect the public no matter if it did work a hardship to a few individuals.

There is a possibility that the board of health will discuss the question of demanding veterinary certificates from all dairymen, at the next meeting of the board.

SEEKS NO MONEY; JUST A GLAD HAND

Dr. Charles Harris Tells Board of Proposed Visit of Sheffield Choir

Dr. Charles Harris, the famous musician, who is to bring the 200 members of the noted Sheffield choir to the city next year, a tour which is to be a factor in bringing many capitalists to Canada, has expounded his scheme before a meeting of the board of trade yesterday.

Dr. Harris made it plain that he did not want financial aid of any kind. What he asked for was merely that the courtesies usually extended by the board to a business delegation would be extended to the choir during their visit here, and that the board would arrange for their entertainment. The choir was composed mostly of business men and capitalists who wished to combine business with pleasure, and were not out to make money.

This came somewhat of a surprise to the members of the board as it had expected that Dr. Harris would ask for financial aid. Following his explanation of his scheme, the board gave it their hearty endorsement, and the entertainment committee of the board will take the matter in hand. The choir will be here May 8, 1911.

COMMISSIONERS MEETING.

At their regular meeting yesterday afternoon the city commissioners decided to ask the superintendent of the power plant for a report as to when the gas producer plant would be ready for operation.

They will also require each department to furnish an inventory of their permanent equipment.

The contract with the Gileas company having expired the commissioners decided not to enter into more contracts on the street railway behalf, until such time as the power house oil contract terminates. At the time they will prepare specifications for call for tenders on a bulk supply which will be sufficient for all line departments.
